CORPORATE GOVERNANCE GUIDELINES

A. Director Responsibilities

1. In General. The Company's By-laws provide that the Board of Directors shall consist of not less than three directors and not more than twenty-five directors. The Board is responsible for the direction and control of the Company. The Board reviews and approves the Company's mission and strategies. In fulfilling this responsibility, Directors must exercise their business judgment in good faith to act in what they reasonably believe to be in the best interests of the Company. The Directors shall be entitled to have the Company purchase reasonable directors' and officers' liability insurance on their behalf and to make use of the benefits of indemnification to the fullest extent permitted by law and the Company's articles of incorporation, bylaws, and any indemnification agreements, and to exculpation as provided by state law and the Company's articles of incorporation. Major transactions that are beyond the authority of corporate executive management are approved by the Board or Committees of the Board. The Board sets the tone for and monitors compliance with the Company's ethical standards. The Board monitors the performance of the Company in relation to its vision, mission, strategies, financial and non-financial objectives; the performance and effectiveness of the Chief Executive Officer and management; and the Company's financial reporting processes and internal controls. Focused discussions of individual businesses and key issues are held throughout the year. The Board also regularly reviews the Company's performance compared to its competitive peer companies. Board members are encouraged to identify prospective directors and recommend them to the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee and to assist management in recruiting customers and colleagues to the Company. Committee responsibilities are detailed in their charters, and reports of Committee meetings are given to the full Board, which acts on their recommendations. The Board will also undertake at least a biennial performance evaluation under the direction of the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee.

 2. Meetings. Regular attendance of all meetings of the Board and of committees on which the directors serve is of utmost importance. Board members are encouraged to attend the Company's annual shareholder meeting and a minimum of 75% of all regularly scheduled meetings. The Chairman of the Board in consultation with the Lead Director establishes the Board agenda for Board meetings. Board meetings will focus on the Company's key strategic, leadership and performance issues. The Board will designate other responsibilities as appropriate to committees. Each year, the Board will conduct a formal review and discussions of the Company's long-term strategic plans.

4. Shareholder Communications. The Company will establish a procedure for communications by shareholders with the Board, including procedures for submitting communications to individual directors. Absent adoption of a different procedure, such communications will be provided to the Audit Committee.
5. Code of Conduct. Waivers of the Code of Business Conduct and Ethics for Directors and executive officers shall be approved by the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee and appropriately disclosed.

B. Director Qualifications

1. A majority of the Board of Directors must be independent. The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee will determine for each director whether she or he is considered independent for purposes of this requirement. A determination of independence shall be made based on rules promulgated by the Nasdaq Stock Market, Inc. ("NASDAQ").
 2. Audit Committee Members – Additional Requirements. In addition to the independence requirements under paragraph 1 above, Audit Committee members must meet the specific requirements established by the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and NASDAQ for independence and the requirements of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation Improvement Act ("FDICIA") and the Sarbanes-Oxley Act. All Audit Committee members must be financially literate and at least one member shall be a "financial expert," as defined by SEC regulations.
 3. Change in Principal Employment. It is the sense of the Board that members should be active leaders in the member's business or profession and in the member's community. As such, members who experience a significant change in their principal occupation, position, location or responsibility held when they were elected to the Board should volunteer to resign from the Board. It is not the sense of the Board that in every instance the members who retire or change from the position they held when they joined the Board should necessarily leave the Board. There should, however, be an opportunity for the Board through the Nominating and Governance Committee to review the continued appropriateness of Board membership under the circumstances.
 4. Membership on Outside Boards. Members should advise the Chairman of the Board and the Chairman of the Nominating and Governance Committee in advance of accepting an invitation to serve on another public company board. There should be an opportunity for the Board through the Nominating and Governance Committee to review the member's availability to fulfill his or her responsibilities as a Director if he or she serves on more than three other public company boards.
 5. Loan Default. A director is expected to submit his or her resignation if a loan from the Company to a director or entity controlled by a director is classified "doubtful" or "loss."

6. Additional Criteria. Board membership should reflect the diversity of the Company's markets. One of the Board's most important responsibilities is identifying, evaluating and selecting candidates for the Board of Directors. The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee reviews the qualifications of potential director candidates and makes recommendation to the full Board for election. The factors considered by the Committee and the Board in its review of potential candidates include:

- Whether the candidate has exhibited behavior that indicates he or she is committed to the highest ethical standards.
- Whether the candidate has special skills, expertise and background that would complement the attributes of the existing Directors, taking into consideration the diverse communities and geographies in which the Company operates.
- Whether the candidate has achieved prominence in his or her business, governmental or professional activities, and has built a reputation that demonstrates the ability to make the kind of important and sensitive judgments that the Board is called upon to make.
- Whether the candidate possesses a willingness to challenge management while working constructively as part of a team in an environment of collegiality and trust.
- Whether the candidate will be able to devote sufficient time and energy to the performance of his or her duties as a director.

The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee from time to time will identify selection criteria for Board membership, taking into consideration the current board composition and that appropriate knowledge, skills, and experience are represented.

7. Waiver of Retirement Age – Criteria to Consider. The Bylaws provide that no person shall be nominated or elected a director of the Corporation after having attained the age of 72 years, unless prior to such nomination or election as a director, the Board of Directors, or the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee, first makes a determination that such age restriction shall not be applicable to such person. Any determination that the age restriction shall not be applicable to any person shall be made only after consideration of whether such person: brings a specific expertise to the board; has valuable industry-specific knowledge and experience; holds unique relationships with third parties, such as regulators; has capacity to devote time to special projects; has developed significant institutional knowledge; or possesses some other attributes or qualifications deemed essential by the Board of Directors, or the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee.
