

2022 Issue and Levy Company Contributions

Huntington does not use corporate funds, either directly or indirectly, for election-related contributions to political candidates, political parties, or candidate committees, including super PACs or independent expenditure committees. Huntington contributes on occasion to local/state issue and levy campaigns which support the interests of our communities and the company. These contributions, when made, are publicly reported in alignment with company policy and applicable law and approved by senior management independent of individual political beliefs.
